SOUTH CABOT

In Memory of Flora A. Hall.

In memory of Flora A. Hall, who passed to higher life March 15, at the age of 87 years and two months.

Flora Ann Hooker was born in Cabot and spent most of her life in the nearby towns. She was one of a family of 11 children. In her younger days she taught school and in 1882 was married to Merrill K. Hall. To them five daughters were born, three of whom passed out in infancy, the other two growing to womanhood before leaving this plane. Mrs. Elmer Chubb was the youngest and only one left to be with her parents, and with her Mr. and Mrs. Hall resided in Hardwick for many years, until Mrs. Chubb's death about nine years ago. After this they moved to Marshfield and for two years cared for two little grandchildren. At this time Mr. Hall was called home and since then Mrs. Hall has made her home with her sister, Mrs. L. E. Woodward of Cabot.

Mrs. Hall had always been of a very staid nature and people often remarked at the brilliancy of her mind in one of her years. She was always trying to do good and fully realized that the better we live here, the brighter will be the hereafter. For many years she had felt that through all her troubles, the dear ones that had passed on before were ever able and ready to help her. She could feel their presence, and wished that all might know that by their great help she was enabled to perform duties that seemed very remarkable. She had no fear of the change called death, but patiently waited until the summons came for her to join her loved ones. She will be greatly missed in the home, but all realize how sweet to her will be this change.

Those called from grandchildren—Evan Chubb of New York City and Clifford Wendell and Orville Chubb of Boston; one sister, Mrs. L. E. Woodward of Cabot and several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held at the home and from the inspired lips of Rev. Effie L. Webster of Montpelier came words of great consolation to all. By Mrs. Hall's request, music was furnished by Mrs. Eri Spencer and Verne Hudson. Miss Leola Taft assisted. All three are from Marshfield. The floral offerings were beautiful and some were placed beside the body, which was taken to Hardwick for burial.

Those called from out of town were Ivan Chubb of New York and V. D. Blake of West Danville.

There is no death, 'tis but a birth. This stepping into life away from earth.

A spirit disenthralled, forever free: There is no death, 'tis life for thee.

There is no death, all nature speaks this truth: 'Tis but the glad returning of youth. From toil and pain forever free: There is no death, 'tis life for thee.

Isador Morrow has moved from the Wesley Hall place to Marshfield.

In the evening an entertainment was given and an exhibition of handwork executed by the pupils, consisting of woodwork, hand weaving, clay and starch molding, crochet, patchwork, drawing maps and booklets done through the term in arithmetic, English and history, the sand table being arranged to represent Vermont in Indian days. The following program was presented: Health play by primary grade; music and song, Misses Houghton and O'Brien; songs, school, "What's the Matter?" and "Blue Bells of Scotland"; a play, "Going to the Fair," with the different grades; music, seven girls; illustrated reading, "Hiawatha"; Albert Reynolds taking the part of Hiawatha and doing his part to perfection, considering that it was his first attempt at such. There was also a box supper and the proceeds from the whole were $10.42.
